

New Spanish wheelchair manufacturer Minos enjoys outstanding success with TGA

With the help of the Powerpack, Minos has experienced outstanding business success during its first 6 months of trading with TGA.

Currently employing a team of 25, Minos is based in Sondika, Northern Spain. Its core business is manufacturing manual and electric wheelchairs however its supply of additional mobility aids has underpinned the strength of its business. The range of exclusive products Minos distributes is wide ranging and includes bathroom and toileting aids, pressure relief products and the world famous TGA Powerpack.

Minos has only sold the Powerpack for 6 months and has already distributed well over 150 units. Maria Eugenia, Minos's Marketing Manager explained, 'As there was nothing similar in the market in terms of quality and design, we knew from the very beginning that the TGA Powerpack would sell well in Spain. It continues to be very popular with the target audience and we have enjoyed huge success so far.'

TGA's National Sales Manager Tim Ross is an advocate of this company and commented that, 'Minos is a shining example of how a company can be successful in a short space of time through a focused business model and by listening to its customer base. We wish Minos all the best for the future and congratulate the hard working team for all their efforts so far.'
